A very intelligent gentleman in a communication to this office pays the following very high compliment: "You are to be congratulated on the excellence of your Daily, I want to thank you for the compliment you pay your readers by assuming that they are interested in spiritual, as well as temporal things."

$100 Reward, $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

A Vanishing Disease. Cases of smallpox are reported from various towns in our near vicinity. There is no need of a panic however, when the reports are investigated, the dread disease is a little "farther on." Fairland, in its history, never had a case of smallpox; Afton none nearer than Vinita; Vinita's nearest point of infection is Wagoner; and so on along the line until you come to South McAlester, where a few mild cases of elephant itch "may" be found among the miners. The government has not seen fit to appropriate $50,000 to assist the Choctaws in stamping out the disease among the negro citizens of that tribe. Agent Hoenfeldt made an investigation, and could not recommend the outlay.—Fairland Bee.

Some time ago the merchants of the Cherokee nation were told in very pronounced language that if they failed to pay their tax to the Indian agent they would be given the benefit of a free ride to Kansas or Arkansas as they preferred. The horror of being taken to either place shocked most of Cherokee's merchants, that they paid. There are, however, in this fair land a few men who failed to respond to official entreaties and jeered the inspector and his push with unholy jeers. These merchants who have not paid the tax, now greet their brothers who did with loud, vociferous, equestrian laughter, and in the pockets of their jeans they rattle much fine gold mingled with pieces of silver, all of which fills the soul of the tax paying merchant with an elegant article of gloom. Has the inspector's nerve failed him, or was all this excitement a short time taken merely a gallery play?—Claremore Courier.

Those who insist that Vinita is a very dead town, and that property is worth less now than it was a year ago should note that waterworks, electric lights, an ice plant etc., etc., are in sight, and the sound of drill, or ax, or hammer, is heard at all hours day and night. The drones will soon have enough to do to keep out of the way of the crowds of workmen.

The esteemed Muskogee Times remarks that "there is not a single case of smallpox in Muskogee." There is, however, a slight difference of opinion between the Times and the physicians of Muskogee. We have one case here in the United States jail that was brought here from Muskogee during court.

A FIVE O'CLOCK TEA.

Mrs. Don Carlos Entertains a Few Friends Most Delightfully.

The "eternally feminine" is ever in search of "something new," and a few of them found it Wednesday at a five o'clock tea given by Mrs. Harry E. Don Carlos. White hyacinths were used in decorating and white and green was the color scheme of the tea table. The guests dined for their places at the table with cards decorated with water color sketches from "Mother Goose," marked in odd numbers, and at the plates were corresponding numbered cards inscribed with the little Irish saying: "There's luck in odd numbers." On the reverse side of these cards were six "book questions" and Mrs. P. L. Soper was the winner of the first prize while Mrs. W. P. Thompson gracefully accepted the "booby." The souvenirs of the occasion were bonbon boxes filled with sweets from Loose, and at each place a dainty bunch of hyacinths was laid. Those present were Mesdames W. B. Coley, P. L. Soper, Joseph A. Gill, W. P. Thompson and Loman Parker, Jr.

CHEROKEE REVENUES.

Cherokee citizens as a rule were in favor of the movement on the part of the interior department inaugurated a few months ago for the collection of the revenues due the tribe. It was not unreasonable that the government of the United States should show good faith to the Indians by saving for them the money due them under the provisions of their laws which had become inoperative by congressional enactment. There was and is every reason for the government enforcing the collection of all revenues due the Cherokee people and surely no friend of the Cherokees ever opposed it.

But it now transpires that the collection of tribal revenues by Inspector Wright has thus far been a very one sided and poorly enforced effort. The haymen were first attacked, and after a hard legal battle, and one man was ejected from the limits of the nation by the Indian police, they paid the royalty under protest. The merchants were next in order and most of them paid up like men with the express understanding that all would be served alike and with loud declarations that all would eventually pay or be put out of the country instantly. The cattlemen were gotten to the paying point and some of them did actually pay their introduction and grazing tax.

Then something happened, nobody knows what, but no one else paid, and those who had paid wanted their money back. The revenue inspectors doubtless draw their salaries as regular as ever, but what they are doing or how much money they have placed to the credit of the Cherokee people no one seems to know.

The truth perhaps is that the cattlemen have succeeded in causing a cessation of hostilities, and that J. George Wright has decided to retreat.

Little Deer, the Indian who has smallpox at the United States jail here was bound over by the commissioner at Sallisaw, and his case should properly have been investigated by the Muskogee grand jury in session at the time he was brought here by Marshal Bennett from the Muskogee jail. This action of the marshal seems to be in violation of Judge Thomas' order made recently that all cases should be investigated by the grand jury to which they were referred.

The South McAlester Capital intimates that it's town is the only prohibition place on the continent. There are no saloons nor gambling dens in Vinita and the drug stores don't sell liquor either. If Vinita is not a prohibition town there are none.

One cent a dose is all we ask for Dr. Simmonds' Cough Syrup, and we are pleased to refund the cost per bottle if it fails to do all that is claimed for it. You get immediate relief.

The Claremore Courier published a special smallpox edition this week, and roasted Dr. B. F. Fortner, of this city, to a dun brown color for going out there last week and "discovering" the dreaded disease.

Backache, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts, Rheumatism speedily cured by using Hines' Lightning Oil. Falling, money refunded.

Thursday's Muskogee Times failed to reach Vinita. Is it possible that great oracle of truth could suspend for a single day?
